

Interested in the Queen's Master of Public Health Program?

	PROGRAM WEBSITE: Find detailed information on program goals, courses and FAQs for prospective students on the MPH Program website.
	GRAD MAP: Why study public health at Queen's? What will you learn? How will you build knowledge, skills and experience across the degree? Check out the MPH Grad Map for details.
	MPH STUDENTS AND ALUMNI: Interested in our students and where they end up? Find profiles of our current students here. See some alumni employment roles here. And, scan to the bottom of the website for some more in depth "Student Stories", like this one.
	PRACTICUM: The MPH includes a 400-hour practicum, where students put course-based knowledge and skills into practice with a public health host organization. Find more information on the practicum including examples of previous practicum sites here.
	APPLYING TO THE MPH PROGRAM: We typically receive about 300 applications a year, and accept approximately 45 students. Find more information about admission requirements and how to apply here.
	DEADLINE DATES: Our application deadline is January 31st
	QUESTIONS? Email us at: MPHadmin@queensu.ca